History Reading:

Story of the World Chapter 2 - "Dutch Revolt"

Key Idea – The Netherlands no longer wanted to be under Spanish rule so with William the Silent's help, they fought against his rule and eventually won.

History Activity:

- Timeline Work: The Netherlands declare independence from Spain in 1581
- Optional Reading: The Boy Who Held Back the Sea This beautiful picture book is a great tie in to learning about The Netherlands.

Literature:

Out of Many Waters – read Chapter 7

Notes and Vocabulary:

Explain how Isobel was discovered. What do you think will happen next?

Copywork:

"Well, Isobel," the captain continued, forgetting his question, "Why have you favored us with your presence on our ship? Or should I say, under our longboat?" There were titters from the crowd at his little joke.

"Isobel stammered, "I...I must go to Amsterdam."

Reader:

The Littles – read chapter 7

Memory Work:

Continue memorizing the continents poem found in the Story of the World Vol. 3 introduction.

Science:

How to Think Like a Scientist – cont. "Using the Scientific Method" pg. 26 – 35

Now that you have learned about control groups, why not perform an experiment using one? You will need two small plants – place them both in a sunny window. One plant you will water normally each day, but the second plant you will water with milk. Compare the results at the end of a week. Use the Scientific Method Experiment Page on page 293 – 294 of this Instructor's guide to keep track of the results.

History Reading:

Story of the World chapter 2 “The Queen Without a Country”

Key idea – Scotland was a Protestant country, but their queen was a Catholic baby girl. They didn’t want a woman, let alone a Catholic woman as their ruler and the lords fought against her, even though she promised to allow them to continue worshipping as Protestants. She became less and less popular until she had to flee to England. In England Queen Elizabeth saw her as a threat to her throne and imprisoned her, later beheading her for treason.

History Activity:

- Timeline Work: Mary Queen of Scots is imprisoned in England – 1567
- You can learn more about Mary Queen of Scots here:
